“ Clifford was one of my little cousins and I have never called him Cliff, because I am a true southern, he was an outdoor's man loved nature, hunting, fishing, but this has been his role all his life following his dad through ever river, ditch, lake, etc., woods, forests,et, c. He would be doing the same into old age if he had lived, he was taught to love this world, God's wonderful creation, loved ya bunches, family is one of our greatest blessings

“ Uncle Cliff it was always You and Dad my whole child hood. You always at the house pulling pranks messing with us or we were at your house. St. Francis, Black River and Mississippi we fished them all and I'm pretty sure that neither you or Dad could swim. Hunting, Fishing, tracking, limb lining and oh God frog giffin and even Handling problems you were the go to guy. Even as a man I looked up to you for advice and called you to get me out of some jams. After I lost Dad you were my go to Guy. You may only been my Uncle but you mean the world to me. I love you Cliff, I am sorry I didnt make it in time to say goodbye. Today we say farewell.
