JANE ANNE ROTHENBERG, a resident of Willow Springs, passed away late Saturday night, January 14, 2017 on her birthday, while at home in Willow Springs due to liver cancer. She was born to Oscie and Ethel Giles in Nashville, TN, exactly 78 years ago.

Jane and her husband Stan were married in Houston, TX in 1975, moved to Rochester, MA in 1987, where Jane was employed by BIW Supply as a warehouse mgr, salesperson, and ended her career as a product mgr. before her retirement in 2001. Jane was a member and elder in the Willow Springs Presbyterian Church. She was active in the women's group and loved singing. She liked performing with the Star Theater Group in Willow and with the Avenue Theater group in West Plains. But nothing gave her more pleasure than being with her family, friends, and her dogs. She will be missed by her family and all her very cherished friends.

Jane is preceded in death by her parents, and brother, Jerry Giles.

She is survived by her husband Stan and son Marc of the home, son Rob Madigan of North Dighton, MA; son, Dan Madigan of the Atlanta, GA area; grandchildren, Kelly and Sean Madigan of Massachusetts; brother, Joe Giles of Temple, OK; brother, Jim Giles and wife, Joyce of Vian, OK; sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Sue and Stan Harder of Wichita, KS; as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

Jane was cremated and her ashes are to be spread at her dear friends' farm in Massachusetts which was so close to her heart. A "Celebration of Life" will be held sometime next month.

“ Jane was an amazing woman. She was a fine thespian, friend and an integral part of her community.

I have included two pictures. One with the members of the Book Club at the second fund raising Afternoon Tea and one of Jane clowning around with her friends at the Fourth of July parade in Willow Springs a few years ago.

Jane was witty, forthright and never boring. We're going to miss her.

“ Jane was the founder of our book club, “Ye Olde Book Bags” in 2009. I don't know how she did it because I don't think any of us would have said, “hello” to each other if we had met individually on the street. But she did it and we're still together doing the one thing that we, for sure, have in common and that is the love of reading. When she was healthy she was a task master and kept us in line because we could become rowdy and unruly just laughing. Laughing at the silliest stuff. How did she know? How did she know we would love each other so much? You are so missed by us.. and by me especially.

“ Jane was a sweet person, always ready to help and when Lester had his knee surgery she loaned him her walker. So sweet and kind. She loved her dogs and horses . I have seen her in the back yard from our field, with someone as they rode the horses.

God bless her and the family. She will be missed so much. May you find comfort in God and his love to help you through this time.
