“ My memories of Loye ... I loved Loye like a father. He was one of the smartest men I knew. He taught me many things over the years, I learned not to waste my money on stupid stuff and to save all I could . Back in 2005 he learned that I loved to fish , so he had a pond built in my backyard. He loved me like his own daughter. I will miss him so much. I was very blessed to spend the last few months with him in our home. He agreed to let me take care of him, and I thank God for that. He was my buddy.

“ Again, I lost another one of my co-workers as one of the original employees of SRC-Willow Springs (later known as Sequel Corp.) Loye's obituary reads truthfully - he was a hard-working, honest man. For several years, when SRC first opened, we worked tremendously long hours. Loye never missed worked and was always willing to work even more hours in engine repair. Sometimes even Sundays after working Monday thru Saturday. Condolences to the family. God Bless you Loye.
